throughout his life f w boreham wrote and refined his stories in order to master the difficult art of telling a story well such diligence was rewarded as dr boreham became recognized as one of the leading christian preachers and writers in the first half of the twentieth century dr geoff pound has written a foreword for this collection of stories that he drew from boreham s many books the book also includes the previously published biographical essay on boreham by rev dr c irving benson

f w boreham was one of the most prolific authors of the twentieth century but this book tells of the crisis boreham experienced during the first world war that led to him discovering and adopting a winning style of communication for the word of god is living and active sharper than any doubleedged sword it penetrates even to dividing soul and spirit joints and marrow it judges the thoughts and attitudes of the heart hebrews 4 12 the new american commentary series is an exceptionally acclaimed resource for ministers and bible students who want to understand and expound the scriptures notable features in this new hebrews volume by scholar david allen include commentary based on the new international version niv text printed in the body of the commentary sound scholarly methodology reflecting capable research in the original languages interpretation emphasizing the theological unity of each book and scripture as a whole readable and applicable exposition discover how the unseen hand of god guides the multiple threads of our lives our joys our tragedies and our daily humdrum to weave a pattern of divine providence and meaning how differently would we live if we believed that every event of our lives from the happy to the tragic to the mundane was part of a beautiful and purposeful design in which no thread were wrongly woven that s what bestselling author and internationally known apologist ravi zacharias explores in the grand weaver it s common to believe that great events such as a death or a birth are guided by the hand of god yet we can easily drift into feeling that our daily lives are the product of our own efforts rather than sovereignly directed this book brims with penetrating stories and insights that show us otherwise from a chance encounter in a ticket line to a beloved father s final words before dying from a random phone call to a line in a scripture reading every detail of life is woven into its perfect place in the grand weaver dr zacharias encourages us to examine our backgrounds our disappointments our triumphs and our beliefs in a different light explaining how they are all part of the intentional and perfect work of the grand weaver also available in spanish

if you asked him his profession he would say he was a pastor but he was superlative as a writer you would think that i was joking if i told you that when he was a child a gypsy told his nanny that if she put a pen in his hand he would never want for work he was among charles spurgeon s last personally chosen students for his bible school when charles brother james spurgeon returned from new zealand needing a replacement in those remote islands boreham accepted the charge it was the start of a long life of ministry and writing in new zealand and australia in the early twentieth century at a preachers conference one preacher said of f w boreham that his books were on all their shelves his name was on all their lips and his illustrations were in all their sermons many years later in 1959 ruth graham wife of billy graham said that she had read almost all of his books and was in the process of acquiring and finishing the last few while preaching in the area billy graham made a special trip to visit this famous writer and preacher impeccable timing as it turned out to be the last year of the author's life writer and apologist ravi zacharias has said that he reads an essay by f w boreham everyday that is some call them essays others call them sermons they straddle the line between preaching and storytelling they are deep enough to be studied by a trained philosopher creative enough to captivate anyone in need of a great story inspiring enough to satisfy any christian thirsty for living water i suppose boreham's writings should speak for him although several eminent men have spoken for him too spurgeon one of the 19th century's greatest preachers billy graham one of the 20th century's greatest evangelists and ravi zacharias one of the 21st century's greatest apologists they all tipped their hat to this writer because of his long life and early commitment to read a book every week he seems to quote or reference every famous christian of his time including not only preachers but missionaries inventors scientists storytellers and adventurers f w boreham wrote over 2000 biographical articles for an australia newspaper during his lifetime many of which were put into his books with 52 full length books and dozens of booklets to his name he was until 1990 the most prolific religious writer in australia's history today his readers agree that no one else has such a knack for taking a commonplace topic or story and zooming out his lens until at the end of almost every essay you gain a glimpse of christ that impels you to worship faces in the fire and other fancies by frank boreham is a book that covers essays on theological topics as well as plain human interest topics the author presents common events that teach deep spiritual truths excerpt it was a chilling experience that first glimpse of new zealand hour after hour the great ship held on her way up the cook straits amidst scenery that made me shudder and that scowled me out of countenance rugged massive inhospitable and bare how sternly those wild and mountainous landscapes contrasted with the quiet beauty that i had surveyed from the same decks as the ship had dropped down channel i shaded my eyes with my hands and swept the strange horizon at every point but nowhere could i see a sign of habitation no man no beast no sheltering roof no winding road no welcoming column of smoke and when in the twilight of that still autumn evening i at length descended the gangway and set foot for the first time on the land of my adoption i found myself twelve thousand miles from home in a country in which not a soul knew me and in which i knew no single soul it was not an exhilarating sensation

t e ruth 1875 1956 was one of the most controversial baptist ministers ever to serve in australia after a successful career in england as preacher pastor and writer ruth came to the significant collins street baptist church in melbourne in 1914 during the tumultuous years of the world war ruth cared for the bereaved and bewildered people in his congregation and in the city he also led public debates about conscription engaging in intense platform clashes with his catholic opponent archbishop daniel mannix he later moved to the pitt street congregational church in sydney where he was soon involved in public opposition to the labor premier j t lang as well as becoming a popular columnist in the secular press to his critics he was a sectarian bigot and was mocked as ruthless ruth to others he was an ardent empire loyalist an admired and successful protestant defender some critics accused him of being a christian spiritualist and others have suggested that he formulated a theology for fascism ruth denounced millennial adventism and hellfire eschatology as he affirmed universalism and a continuing spiritual development after death this fascinating study of a progressive thinker public theologian and controversialist illuminates one of the more divisive and formative periods in australian religious and political life
